A programme of: LEAN PROJECT MANAGEMENT WORKSHOPS

LEAN THINKING LTD in collaboration with Construction Skills, Buildoffsite, Interserve and ISG are delighted to announce the spring 2011 programme of workshops. The workshops will be delivered by Ali Mafi of Lean Thinking Ltd. Each workshop will include contributions from either Interserve or ISG drawn from their experiences of applying the unique lean project management system on their projects.

Objectives

The Workshops will provide delegates with the overview of the most advanced project management system utilising Lean Thinking philosophies in conjunction with methodologies such as Theory of Constraint, Systems Thinking, Self managing Teams, Integrated Planning and 6 Sigma. Each new learning point will have examples from projects by some of the UK's leading clients and Contractors. The tangible business benefits of this unique system will also be demonstrated.

At a time of unprecedented economic challenge for the industry the workshops will demonstrate the best system for radically improving performance and increasing value to clients and at the same time improving competitiveness and profitability.

The Workshops will provide an overview of how to:

- Radically improve delivery against key criteria of time, cost and quality simultaneously and with out trade off.
- Maximise the predictability of contract completion date.
- Optimise the project duration.
- Compress time and in turn reduce cost and maximise competitive advantage.
- Absorb impact of delay without effecting the end date.
- Radically improve integration and team working across the supply chain.
